a software developer

Data-types: Python stores different types of numbers as different data types. (1) string, (2) integer, (3) floats.

Function: A piece of program that performs an operation - myFunction('prompt') Variable: A name representing a value

a container for software!

Software requirements: Should be complete, consistent, expressed understandable.
(1) Functional - what will the software do?

(2) Non-functional - How well will it do it?

(3) Usability - How easy will it be to use?